This may be the time of arts and crafts. It was the spinning and weaving industries of the home that developed the real artistic sense of our grandmothers. These industries have been taken from the homes and put in the factories. In camp, however, this work is lifted from the plane of necessity to that of opportunity. After the rest hour the campers may take a hike. They learn hiking rules by experience, such as, never walk over anything that you can walk around, or never step on anything that you can step over. The hike may be in the form of a scouting party. The scouts must learn how to find their way and be able to interpret all signs and tracks. There is nothing more fascinating than to sit around the camp-fire after a long ramble, you are tired but it is a good feeling fatigue. The camp-fire is started, not um big fire but um little fire as the Injun did, --a fire over which one could cook a supper. The girls are bubbling over with good health and appetites. The fish, just landed from the lake, are baked in a hole in the ground and the baked potatoes are poked out of the hot embers. The ends of the corn husks are tied over the cob, soaked in water, and placed in the hot coals for twenty minutes. Melted butter is then put on...
